Carpe your diem.

Can school be a place kids look forward to on a daily basis? Can it be a place kids feel truly good about themselves and excited to take on new challenges? Can it be a place where they want to take chances, seize opportunities and really go for it? My answer is an un-equivocal YES.

Montcrest has always set itself apart as a school with an infectious “seize the day” attitude. Here, no student can become rudderless. Our intimate class sizes, individual attention, and state-of-the-art academic, artistic, athletic, and social programming ensure children can take flight and truly come into their own as people.

Whether virtually or in our beautiful, modernized buildings, heritage homes and natural outdoor spaces, Montcrest offers a hands-on, minds-on environment for children to discover and develop their gifts.

A spectacular education for your child can't wait. Carpe your diem. We'd love to learn about your child.

Warmest wishes,

Erin Corbett

Head of School

It's hard to tell who is happier—our students or their parents.

When your child is happy and engaged at school, it's a wonderful thing. But it's not just your child who benefits. Montcrest is more than a school, it's a community—a village—and your whole family is welcome. Parents can volunteer as little or as much as they want. And the parent-teacher relationship? It's a true, collaborative partnership.

“Montcrest continues to exceed my expectations of what a school could be. My kids are given every opportunity to explore who they are and what excites them.”

Free to be me.

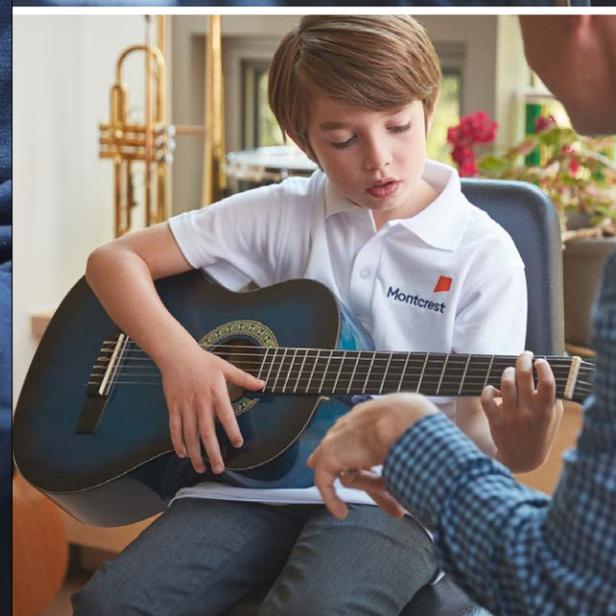

At Montcrest, children are encouraged to explore and express their own interests and distinctiveness. Whether it's coding, curling, clarinet, costume design or speaking out for a social justice cause, we have a co-curricular program or in-class opportunity to cultivate it. Some environments promote conformity. We, however, prefer it when students break the mould.

You've got this.

Our goal is to help every student from JK to 8 become more capable every single day. That's why we present our students with a progressive series of personalized challenges – carefully calibrated to their age and stage. We give them all the support they need until we know they can do it on their own. "You've got this" is a refrain heard a lot around here. Our students graduate with an unshakeable foundation of courage, self-reliance, and get-back-on-the-horse-ness.

“My child has blossomed at Montcrest. He is able to take risks in a safe and supportive environment. He is being challenged academically, without knowing he is being pushed in that direction.”

Giving voice and choice.

We believe every child has the capacity to lead. Montcrest students of all grade levels are empowered to find their voice, mentor others, and make independent decisions. From conflict resolution to community outreach to social justice – plus over 15 specialized leadership roles for Grade 8 students – your child will be seen and heard.

JK to 8: a carefully crafted journey.

It starts in JK and SK, where we teach children to learn adventurously. In Grades 1-5, children leverage that self-confidence to take risks and leaps – academically, creatively and socially. In grades 6-8, we let out the kite string as children come into their own, take on leadership roles and tackle advanced academic challenges. And by graduation? Montcrest grads are tugging at the string – ready to soar in high school and in life.

“Our son moved to Montcrest & had a transformational year. The teachers got to know his true nature & helped nurture a sense of belonging, academic success and independence. We can't say enough about all that Montcrest has been for our son and our family.”

“Responsive” is our middle name.

One of the strengths of being a small(-ish) independent school is that we can turn on a dime. Pedagogically we are always on the forefront, and we thoughtfully consider and build world events into our students' learning. And when there's a global pandemic? We were ready for it—with an online learning framework that plays to our school's greatest strengths: community and connectedness.

“*Thank you for your ongoing efforts to make school at home as enjoyable, productive and connected as possible. We appreciate it!”

We'd love to learn about your child.

We invite you to reach out for an open conversation about your child, your vision for their future, and the Montcrest experience.
